Stars of the Week

P1/2- Penny for fantastic work on phonics. NINA for always trying her best.

P3/4- LUCY & JENNY for a super character description. Adam for super work when rounding numbers.

P5/6- Poppy for perseverance in her work. Amos for an excellent attitude to his reading. Elsie for great work during numeracy.

P7- Jessie for having a great attitude to learning.

School Assemblies

In Gorran, we have whole school assembly every Friday morning to celebrate success, mark birthdays and learn about how to be a good student and friend to others. We also welcome visitors from our local churches and CEF (Christian Evangelism Fellowship) to speak to the children. We encourage everyone to come along and enjoy all assemblies. If, however you do not want your child to be present in assemblies with guest speakers, you are welcome to 'opt out'.

To do so simply get in touch with your class teacher or email gorranps@gmail.com
No explanation is required.

Student Council

We are looking for some new, enthusiastic members to join our student's council. If your child (P2-P7) would like to join the student council, they should write a short paragraph (with help) about why they would like to be part of the student council and what skills they would bring. We will hold elections in each class and elect one new representative for each year group. Entries to be posted in the post box before Friday 4th October.

Welcome our new(ish) Primary 1's

We are delighted with how well our primary 1 pupils have started life at Gorran. They are a great bunch and are already important members of our school family. One of the highlights of our week is 'buddy time' where the P7 students read, play, complete maths tasks or work on the computer with their buddies. Everyone looks forward to this time on a Wednesday and we commend our P7s for the patience, care and enthusiasm they show while working with their buddies.

The Gorran Get Together

Friday night was a great success, and it was lovely to see families (old and new) enjoying some food and fun together. A big thank you to all staff and parents who worked hard to organise this event.
